THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 10, 1855. AMERICAN TICKET. For Governor of Virginia, Por Lieutenant Goreinor, JAMES M. H. BEALE, of Minson JOHN M. PATTON, of Hichmond.

WILLIAM M. PENDI.ETON, of Brooke

17 The cholera has appeared in St. Louis, Mo, The papers of the 1st instant announce several deaths from it. ardeo, W. P. Custis, Esq., is to be invited to deliver the address at the celebration of the anniversy of the settlement of Jamestown, Va., on the 13th inst. 17 Ex-President Fillmote arrived in Bos'on on Saturday evening, and took lodgings at the Revero House. The Courier says he is in excellent health, and looks tobust. He will take passage in the Africa for Europe, on Wednesday. ar There is a controversy between the Canadian Houses of Parliament on the question whether the seat of government shall continue, as formerly, perambulatory. The lower House is in favor of the latter-the Councel of the former proposition. The latest folly enjoined by the goddess of fashion upon her object devotees, the indies of N. York, is the wearing of bonnet ribbons four feet ling. The bonnets, meantime, continue to recede from public observation. They have long been invisible to the naked eye of the weater; and they now threaten to run entirely to ribbon.

17 The Patent Office is overburdened with application; and, probably, on an average, two thousand patents are issued in the course of a single year. At this rate, the grand hall appropriated to models will soon be insufficient for this purpose, and others parts of the building will de required for the depository.

UPThe Ericsson, once the hot air ship, but now an old fashioned steamer, made another trial trip down the bay, at New York, on Thursday; to test her new machinery. She ma e good progress and gave entire satisfaction to thes; on board. The caloric principle is abandoned, and the propelling power now is the ordinary steam engine. Of The increase in the consumption of paper is thus stated:- Forty years ago three men, by handwork could scarcely manufacture 4000 small sheets of paper in a day, while now, by the use of ma hinery, they can produce 60,000 in the same time. It has been calculated that if the paper produced yearly by six machines could be put together, the sheet would encircle the world. In Franco only 70,000 tons are produced yearly, of which one-seventh is for exportation. In Britain 66,000 tons are produced, while the amount produced in in the United States is nearly as great as in France and England together. 17 A letter from Sebastopol says that people generally insist upon believing there is a wall. around that city, and go on talking about threaching' it, and 'mining' it, and performing all sorts of destructive operations on a thing which does not exist. There is no wall of Sebastonol. There is no defence of the kind within or without its line which cught to be called, or can be considered, a town wall; but there is a stone wall crenellated for musketry, which extends from Artillery Bay round to the Platform Bastion on the French side. It is a detached wall, and offers no impediment to the artillety of an enemy directed against it. The French, however, do not regard it in the least, as it only a weak curtain. The Russian batteries are before it or at its extremities, and this is the only wall about the place.

BTMr. Thackeray, who is expected to return to America in a few months, (on the completion of The Newcomes, bringing with him a new series of lectures, is said to have recently applied for the Secretaryship of the British Legation at Washington, and to have teceived an intination from Lord Palmerston, through their mutual friend, Lord John Russell, that such a situation could not be given except to a person who had regularly been bred up to the practice of diplomacy as a profession. Mr. Thackeray, who has recently been called to the bar, was subsequently spoken of as a proper person to receive the appointment of stipendiary inegistrate at Brighton; locality within two hours' ride of London; salary £300 a year. The Brightonians, alarmed at the idea of having a satitist on their judicial beach, used all means, direct and indirect, to prevent the appointment, and succeeded.

Narrow Escape of the Pops.

In the cloister of the monastery of St. Agnes his Holiness entertained his distinguished guests at dinner, in a large hall on the first floor, and subsequently admitted the pupils of the Propaganda College.

At this moment about one hundred and fifty persons were collected together around the Pope, when an awful tremor manifested itself in the flooring, which his Holiness instantly perceived and endeavored to prevent his guests from being alarmed at, assuring them that it was the shock of an earthquake, a phenomenon with which his residence as nuncio in South America had rendered him somewhat familiar. However, before any further conjectures were broadled the floor gave way. With hideous rain and combustion dire, the Pope, prelates, cardinals, generals, soldiers, and scholars were preciditated through it, without order of precedence, among talling beams and fragments of masoury. Cardinal Antouch's good luck ments of masonry. Cardinal Autourn's good nor saved him alone of all the cardinals present. He was near the window to which he ching for support; but his eminent brethren, Marini and Patrizi, were severely injured in the fall, as was the French general and a great number of the Propaganda pupile.

Pio Nono himself descended unburt, and sitting in his Papal chair, and was extricated from the wieck amidst exclamations of miracolost miracolost from all atound. In gratifulde for such an except, his foliness forthwith invited all who were able to follow him to enter the church, and with a oud voice intoned a thanksgiving to the Almighty, and afterwards received the sacramental benediction from Monsignor Tizzani.

Meanwhile the wounded were extricated from the ruinz and conveyed to Rome in carriages, nuch to the surprise of the peaceful citizens who had assembled at the gates, and were consternated to see so many priests with their head tied up.— Some disabled lookeys were expected from the steeple chase, but it was supposed that the Pope's excutsion would be by no means so dangerous. An Irish Propaganda pupil boasts of having been the first to succor his Holiness, the same youth the first to succor bis Holiness, the same youth who was reciting a congratulatory sonnet to the Pope when the floor gave way, and was consequently in immediate proximity during the descent to the regions below.

The great carpet, which had been spread over the floor, is supposed to have broken the Pope's fall by rendering it more gradual; but, to whatevest the states and use or we may may be consequently fall the states and use of the states.

cet uteleatinfluence we may may choose to attitute it, his Holiness certainly did escape safe and sound, and the Roman Municipal Council and Senate, viewing it in the light of a progidy, have given orders for a devout thanksgiving to the immaculate Conception during three days, to commence on Moniay next.—English Paper.

From the Shed Behind the Wall. Winter, with its ice and snow, and winds and dreaty days, has rolled away into eternity.
